'Production technology of Groundnut & Summer seed production of soyabin'
5th January, 2021

Krishi Vigyan Kendra, Jalan-I organize monthly farmers' seminars through its informal group named Krishi Vigyan Mandal (KVM) from last 23 years. This seminar is organized on fixed date i.e. 5th of every month on need based topics where farmers participate voluntarily with their own expenses across the district. The expert lectures are organized; farmers solve their problems and get back the technologies in their villages. Total 281 monthly seminars are held so far without any discontinuity which itself is a record of consistency. The expenses for organizing seminars are also borne by individual farmers on rotation basis.

On 5th January, 2021 due to restrictions of Covid-19 outbreak and lockdown situation in the country, it was not possible to organize this monthly seminar in actual. On this background, KVK with consents of KVM members decided not to discontinue the series of knowledge sharing event and the contents of 281nd monthly seminar will be delivered to farmers by using digital mode like Google meet app.

Dr. S. P. Metre discussed on summer seed production on soyabin and Mr. Madhukar ghuge discussed on Production technology of ground-nut.
